Mist Still Shrouds Junior-Senior Prom As Told by a Private Detective

I am a detective. My name will be kept secret "to protect the records." I shall now proceed to show you how difficult it is to get information on our coming Junior-Senior Prom. First, I make a long list of questions to fire at my victims. Second, I call each of them on the phone.

"Hello, hello. This is ———, and I would like some information on the Prom. At the Vets Building, May 19, from 9 to 12:00 P.M. Who are the musicians going to be? Oh, the Collegians?—Not the Dons but all the Collegians. O.K.

"Oh, d-o-o don't hang up please! There, whew! Do you have any prominent colors? Uh, what? It's a hodgepodge? Oh, I see — they blend together. Do you need or want more help? Each chairman has chosen his committee—I understand.

"Listen — has anything funny happened? Oh, it will give the decorations away. All right. (Where have I heard that before? — only with each question asked for weeks and weeks). Do you want more publicity on any part of it? Oh, you think it's good but not necessary. (Thanks loads, Buster!)"

GOOD GRIEF!

by Alison Tomlin

Tomorrow night, following the play, will be the Lettermen's "Miss Varsity" dance in Taylor gym.

Music will either be provided by records or a jukebox, (no nickels or dimes required.)

Tentative colors for the dance are black and gold, but at the time this article was written the exact decorations were still in the planning stage.

The dress is sporty.

During the dance "Miss Varsity" will be announced. Vying for the title are Dee Darney, Carol Wisneski, Mikie Carroll, Vivian Rodgers, Pam McDonald, Patty Porter, and Shelley Willard.

On Monday, May 22, SLOHS students may take out petitions for student body and class officers. The nominations assembly will be held second period, Friday, May 26. The student body nomination and all athletic awards will be presented during this assembly. The junior nominations assembly will be held third period, Friday, and the sophomore nominations assembly will be held period four, the same day.

Carol Pennington, Gary Whitney, and Cheryl Mehlschau demonstrate ability to "Keep Silent" about Junior-Senior Prom.

Editorial

by Travis Wilson

There is a menace lurking through the classrooms of our school. This menace may be stopped only by the will power of the individual student. What is this so-called menace to our students? ... it's CHEATING.

It is humiliating to see your own classmates gazing onto someone else's paper and copying like mad just because they didn't take the time to study. These students who find their eyes wandering from desk to desk are the students who will find themselves wandering from employment office to employment office in later life. Cheating in high school often leads to failure in life.

Why not put out a little effort now before it's too late and learn to study for yourself? You don't gain knowledge from other people's studying but by the use of your own mind. Someday you will be very thankful that you read your text and not your classmates' answers.

New Honor Roll Lists 28 Scholars

by Art Rice

The newly formed honor roll, instituted under the auspices of CSF, serves to bring scholastic recognition to many fine students. The chief reason behind the new honor roll is that many students failed to qualify for the California Scholarship last semester by as little as $\frac{1}{4}$ of a point. Also, CSF has discontinued the practice of having associate members. The qualifying system is much the same as CSF's 3 points for an "A" and 1 point for a "B," except only 8 points are required for membership instead of 10 for CSF.

As in CSF, the girls seem to dominate the honor roll. Twenty-two of the twenty-eight members are girls.

Members of the honor roll for the third quarter are: Bob Anderson, Diane Betten-court, Sharon Blair, Ken Bowls, Rayanne Burmeister, Dave Butler, Earlene Chambers, Nancy Chase, Carolyn Collins, Barbara Danaher, Jane Daniels, Carolyn Dunlap, Marie Dunlap, Roy Falk, Dan George, Roger Groene, Barbara A. Hart, Virginia Hoffman, Jessie Howe, Karen Lea Johnson, Alice Jaurez, Pam Marsall, Linda Overton, Sandra Pfizner, Barbara Soto, Linda Spurlock, Kathi Weishar, Charron Woolpert.

School Librarian, Mrs. Smith cautions many students who qualify to remember that they must make their applications in order to become members.

Personalities of the Week

Pete Graham

Pete Graham, talented junior, holds interests and abilities in many fields. Pete is outstanding in art and shows promise in music, which has become one of his main interests. This young male took up guitar playing last year and has developed his technique to perfection. Pete's guitar playing has prompted him to set up a coffee house in his basement. "The Basement" is quite similar to professional coffee houses, as it is dark, and fully equipped with espresso and other foods, modern paintings, chess boards, and live entertainment provided by Pete and his friends.

When he is not playing his guitar or waiting on customers, Pete enjoys bike riding and playing chess. His plans for the future include a general course at Hancock College after graduation from high school.

Carol Holmes

Among their clan the sophomores boast of pert blue-eyed Carol Holmes. Carol made her debut in Oakland, California, 16 years and 2 months ago. She just received her driver's license so you are apt to see her at her favorite pastime — careening around town.

Carol's favorite sport is baseball. Under favorite foods she lists dumplings, pizzas and spaghetti. After SLOHS she plans to go to college and major in Home Economics. When asked her plans for the summer she laughed, "I just want to have tons of fun."

Marsha Rood

Junior, Marsha Rood forms the perfect picture of an earnest student, showing initiative, intelligence, and stamina. Marsha not only maintains a straight "A" average in college prep courses but also finds time to be TOTS vice-president, a member of GSC, CSF, and is a good athlete.

Marsha confessed that in her younger years, she was an avid Roy Rogers' fan, but her interests have matured, and now Andre Previn heads her list of "favorites." Marsha also enjoys horseback riding, reading, and bowling.

After graduation, this studious girl plans to attend Stanford University, her father's alma mater, and major in psychology or education. To meet the high entrance requirements and rigorous schedule set up by Stanford, Marsha places herself on a strict schedule of eight study hours per week night, and twice as many hours on weekends. Preparedness is Marsha's motto, forming her into the type of student colleges will welcome.

Tom Jones

Roaming the halls with a pencil behind his ear is sophomore Tom Jones. Tom is an active member of the Welfare Board, GSC, and CSF. On his list of favorites rank basketball, Corvettes, and steak. Nagging females is classified as his main dislike.

In meeting people Tom looks for a sense of humor and easy-going manner. After high school he plans to go to San Jose State, and he told the Roar he thought the world could definitely do without homework.

BENGAL BASEBALLERS INVADE ATASCADERO

by Bob Holmquist

Tigers, 5; Lompoc, 1.

May 1, 1961 — Coming up with a big four-run sixth inning, the Tigers downed the Lompoc Braves 5-1, on the loser's diamond. Bengal flinger Bob Meacham tossed a nifty two-hitter at the bewildered Braves to chalk up his sixth victory against no losses.

The Tigers scored a tally in the fourth inning to break the scoreless tie. A walk, a sacrifice bunt, and a single by Tom Sweeney pushed across the run; however, the Braves bounced right back in the bottom of the frame to tie the score. A single, a walk, an error, and a sacrifice fly accounted for the Lompoc score.

The Tigers broke the game wide open in the sixth inning when they collected four markers off lefty Bob Gilham. Jim Breeden opened the inning with a double. Bunny Leguna sacrificed Breeden to third, and Tom Sweeney drew a walk. Jack Della Bitta clubbed a single to score Breeden. Bob Salyer walked to fill the sacks. After a popout for the second out of the inning, Bill Pierce singled to send two more Tigers scampering across the plate. Rick Leguina singled to bring in the final run, making the score 5-1, in favor of the Tigers.

The Tigers outthit the Braves by an 8-2 margin. The Bengals committed two miscues on the field, while the Braves defense made but one.

Tigers, 2; Santa Maria, 1.

May 6, 1961 — The Tigers edged out the visiting Santa Maria Saints 2-1, combining fine pitching with a "sound" defense. The victory gave the Bengals the League championship, while also keeping the Tigers' record unblemished. The win over the Saints was the Morrowmen's eighth straight victory against no defeats.

The Tigers scored their only two runs in the first inning, but Meacham's fine hurling and a good defense proved the two runs to be enough. A walk to Jim Kluck was followed by another free pass to Rick Leguina. Bob Meacham then lofted a high drive into left field which caromed off the goal post back towards the infield. By the time the left fielder retrieved the ball, two runs had scored, and "Meach" was perched on third with a triple!

The Saints picked up their lone run off Meacham in the top of the second. A walk and two singles picked up the run. Their chance for a big inning came in the seventh when a hit batter, an error, and a sacrifice bunt put runners at second and third with one out. Bob Meacham then snagged a hard shot which was headed for center field, held the runners, and threw the batter out at first. The next Saint batter looped a soft liner into short right field which had base hit written all over it; however, Jim Kluck raced out, and, with his back to home plate, made a sparkling catch to give the Tigers the victory and the League championship!

Thinclads Compete In CIF Finals

Tonight those Tiger track stars who had placed 1st or 2nd in last Saturday's harrowing league meet will depart for the toughest of the four-quarter finals of the CIF meet being held in Carpenteria.

Although the varsity and B squad placed 3rd with the C's taking 5th, Coach Frost was reportedly happy with the over-all outcome of the league meet and quite decidedly happy with a few surprise sparks Saturday.

One such "spark," although certainly no surprise, was Ralph Bell, high point man on the Tiger varsity. Frost had predicted "We'll do well with Bell" before Saturday's meet and we did, as Bell went on to take 1st in the 220 with a time of 22.5, bettering his best time by .5 second. Barely nosed out of a 1st in the 120 yard high-hurdle, Bell took 2nd with a photographic finish needed to determine the winner. He later went on to place 3rd in the broad jump.

Another outstanding performance was issued by Ken Gaylord, another predicted by Frost to do well in the league meet. Adding .3 second to his best time of 2:03.0 Gaylord stole first place in a dynamic show of spirit and determination. After a two-weeks illness prior to the meet, Ken appeared to have burned out at the 200 yard mark, but suddenly poured all out, passing all contenders to break first tape. Overall total points for the varsity was 32½.

In the B's further conviction of Frost's expectancies was found in the relay team which took 1st place in the 660 yard relay with a time of 1:10.2, bettering their best time by .2 second. With Duron an anchor man the B-relay team consisting also of Stan Schwarz, Bob Nunes, and Don Frazier burned track to take one of many 1st's obtained during the season. An 1st place winners they will go on to CIF quarter-finals Friday.

An amazing record was chalked up by Don Frazier for the B's. Coming in 1st in the 100 yard dash (10.5), running for the relay team, and placing 1st in the broad jump with a leap of 20 ft. Frazier's seemingly boundless energy took him to a second place in the high jump as well. Larry Duron took 2nd place in the 220 yard dash.

Baseball Varsity Stats

Here is a statistical rundown on the San Luis Tiger baseball squad. The batting averages and pitching records are for games through May 6th, not including Tuesday night's game with Santa Maria.

Jimmy Breeden, Bengal right fielder, is currently pacing the Ebony and Gold at the plate. The diminutive fly hawk has collected nine hits in twenty at-bats for a .450 average. Big Bob Meacham follows Breeden, owning a .375 batting percentage. "Meach" has shown rivals that he can send the ball away from the plate as fast as he can send it in. Among Bob's nine safeties are two doubles, two triples, and one home run. He has batted in eight runs. Bobby Salyer, another of Coach Morrow's slugging "gardeners," is rapping the horsehide at a .370 clip. Salyer's ten hits lead the team, five of them going for extra bases. Bobby has smacked three doubles, one triple, and one homer, chasing in six tallies. Tiger first sacker, Bill Pierce, is ten points below Salyer at .360, with nine for twenty-five, and four runs batted in.

Shortstop Jack Della Bitta has a batting average of .267. Jim Kluck, second base, and Rick Leguina, third base, have identical .259 percentages. Doug Jones, backing up Bob Meacham on the mound, has seen action in the outfield, and is batting .250. Bunny Leguina, soph catcher, at .238; Tom Sweeney, left field, at .222; and Dave Gibson, reserve outfielder, at .167 round out the squad batting.

Bob Meacham, the "kingpin" of Morrow's hill corps, has a dazzling performance record. The towering Bengal right-hander has chalked up seven victories without a setback this season. He holds decisions over Arroyo Grande twice, Lompoc twice, and has beaten Paso Robles, Atascadero, and Santa Maria, once. In 49 innings of pitching, Meacham has fanned 53 batters. Doug Jones, Coach Morrow's intended "fireman," found himself roaming the outfield because of Meacham's durability on the mound this season. Doug started and went five plus innings against the Paso Robles Bearcats, yielding just one run, but was taken out because of a blister on his pitching hand. He had whiffed six Bearcats and walked three during that stint. Terry Flint, a junior, is the third man on the Bengal staff. Terry mopped up for Jones in the Paso game, hurling an inning plus. So there is the story on the Bengals for eight games.

German Visitor Finds San Luis Friendly, But Different from Germany

by Elisabeth Merriam

"Why did I come here to San Luis? Dr. Peter Rothermel smiled, which he does frequently. "Well, I wanted, of course, to see how you live, to see if some of the opinions we have are correct. You know, conformity is supposed to be almost an ideal with you. But it isn't, not that much. I wanted to find out what the German boy will have to adjust to when he comes over. Having been here a while, I can better help him. Another reason, I wanted to learn how young Americans occupy their time and what they think about certain things. And when I return, I can tell people how it is here."

Visiting San Luis for six weeks, Dr. Rothermel is from Stuttgart, Germany. He is head of the English department at Eberhard Ludwig Gymnasium. He is the adviser of the ASC which is the counterpart of our GSC. He is now staying with Anne Smith's family, having previously lived in the Al William's home.

Dr. Rothermel is comparing the educational systems of Eberhard Ludwig and SLO high. He can be seen nearly every day attending classes, making notes and following the discussions. Sometimes he picks up a recent report or composition and reads it over, to the student's dismay. One of the aspects of American schools which interests him most is co-education. European schools, at least in the cities, are not co-educational. Dr. Rothermel wonders, "Isn't having the other sex in the same classes a distracting influence?" However, he admits that he would like to teach in a school with half as many girls as boys.

"The girls," he laughed, "might be an uplifting factor for the boys, providing a little competition."

He feels that eventually the larger cities will at least experiment with co-education. He also mentioned that he would like very much to have students discuss co-education with him.

"I have found it most satisfying to talk with young people here," he commented. It would seem that one of Dr. Rothermel's pet peeves is the early marriage of American students. He is against them, saying:

"Before a man is 27 he will change his mind at least three times. How can he know enough to be married? Neither he nor the wife can develop his mind fully. They are not mature enough to marry. Look at the divorce rate. It has risen to one out of four."

How does a visiting diplomat spend his time? What interesting things has he seen? How does he feel about Americans in general? Dr. Rothermel spends some time going from class to class. He attends all sorts of meetings and makes the usual speeches. One day he spent a quiet hour wandering about Perfumo Canyon, and looking out to the sea.

On May 15, he will be initiated to the joys of clamming. He has taken a trip to San Francisco, stopping at several of the missions.

"I loved them, especially the architecture. As for the people. Yes, they are friendly. In fact," he moaned, "sometimes too friendly. How can I ever remember 100 names in one week?"

Surely there is no better way to appreciate the exchange program and the people in Stuttgart than to have a visitor such as Dr. Rothermel. These exchange trips are important to international understanding, to genuine good will.

Parent-Son Dinner To Sponsor Awards

by Joel Premselar

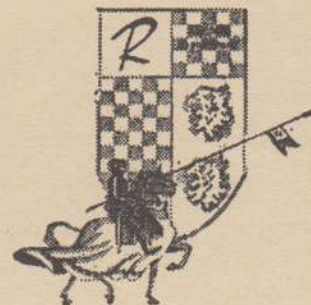

The annual FFA parents and sons will banquet in the basement of the Vets Memorial building next Thursday evening at 7. Because of lack of time to hold a drive to raise funds for a free dinner, the cost of the dinner will be $1.25. Barbecued chicken will be served.

The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of Honorary Chapter Awards to three community leaders chosen in appreciation for their aid to the FFA in the past year. These awards will be presented by "green-hands," the freshman class FFA.
